Young Inquirer : I hope the plainness of this, in so easie and usual Declinations of Forms, will not onely take away what before was obscure, but lay it obvious to every Ingenious Learner ; being furnished with that Variety that will suit as well the fancy, as the occasions of all men, if either the distance of their abode, or haste of their business will not permit them further advice.

We court you not with a Title, onely in short let you know, that the use of this Book is this, You have all the Names both of Men and Women, varied according to their use in Latine in all sorts sorts of Writings, whether Bonds, Deeds, or otherwise; nor leaves it here, but leads you to the true understanding of Weights, Measures, and Summes of Money from the least to the greatest. It carries you to a delectable Garden well planted with fair Fruit, where you may gather Presidents to fit your Appetite upon any account. In short, it is like a fertile and well manured Soyl, that hath heart enough in it to produce a full satisfaction to the longing of the labouring Husbandman. So that nothing is wanting to answer every occasion or emergency of this kinde.

What may have been offered heretofore, is not for my inquiry, but I dare assure you with less charge you cannot have greater advantage: And I am confident more certainty is not to be attained. The tryal in the use of it will make you commend it more than I dare; which with the conveniency of Its being so easily portable, as not to be a burden to your little Pocket, (the like thereof never in the sort had before) makes me cease further Praeludiums; and not to hinder you the benefit accruing thereby.

The Almanack Explained.

HAVING on the upper part of the Moneth and under them the Figures for the dayes of the Moneth, from 1, to 31, under them your Dominical Letters; and in the lower part the Letters for the days of the Week, from Sunday to Saturday: on each side you have the year of our Lord from 1660, till 1687. on each side of them is your Dominical Letters. Now to know your day; first, find out your year, next your Dominical Letter against that year, which Letter find in the lower part of your Almanack, and the Letter

Of the Almanack.

Letter under that is the day of the Week, for your observation for the whole year. Onely every Leap-year you have two Dominical Letters which you are to observe, the first of January and February, and the next for all the year after.

Example.

IN the year 1660. you find the Letters A G, A directs you to Saturday for January and February, and G to Sunday for all the year after: so that you finde the first Saturday in January is the 7th day, and under that Saturdays for that Moneth, and under* Febru-

February 4. which are Saturdays for that Moneth: but in March you must observe G which directs you to Sunday, so that the first Sunday in March is the 4th day, and so you reckon forward. April and July, the first Sunday is the first day of the Moneth, and so of the rest. In the year 1661, you finde your Domini- cal Letter F, which directs you to Monday, which is your observation for that year, and so you may finde the rest: and when you are at 1687, you may begin again.

 Tenants

Tenants and Farmers of the by virtue of several Leases thereof made unto them by the within named E. F. did severally attorn and become veral Tenants and every of them, have given unto the said G. H. one penny in the name of Attornment in the presence of, &c.

Points

Points of Law concerning Lord and Tenant, &c.

1. IF the Lord take away any part of the demised Premises, and exclude Tenants by Walls, &c. It is an extinguishment of his Rent.

2. If a Landlord covenant with his Tenant to rebuild any Room, and do not, whereby the Tenant receiveth loss, the Tenant may have an Action upon the Case, upon his Paroll-Covenant, wherein he may recover what he can prove himself to be damaged.

3. If

3. If the Landlord hath manure lying in the ground of the Tenant, and except it not at the dimise, the Tenant may dispose the same as he shall see cause for his own conveniency, for being a place for a manure hill, the Tenants necessity will require use of it, and that the Tenant may better and safer dispose it, let him mix some of his own manure with it, and then he may either sell it, or lay it upon what ground he will.

4. The Landlord digs a Sawpit, &c. After the ground let, it is the Tenants, and he may have an Action against any that during that time

without his consent meddles with it.

5. The Landlord after the demise, lops, tops, cuts, and fells timber, Willows, Sallows, Thorns, and other wood, during the Lease; the Landlord cannot without consent of the Tenant, meddle with the woods, not being excepted in the Lease.

6. The Tenant may cut any Waterboughs, Thorns, Willows, Alders, &c. for necessary Hedgebote, Firebote, but not to sell, and if he lop Ashes, 'tis an Action of Waste in the Tenant.

7. If the Landlord lay Hay in any Room of the Tenant, &c. and the Tenants Man or Maid es Maid, or himself, fodder his he Cattel with it, what remedy nd hath the Landlord against his l- Tenant, and the Tenant a-er gainst the Landlord?

he An Action lieth against ut the Lord, for laying his Hay d- there; but the property of e- the Hay is still notwithstanding in the Landlord, and if the Tenant fodder his Catel with it, the Lord hath his Action.

8. If a man let a Cow to
- hire, and after take her to the if Market to sell, and do not, n an Action of Trespass lieth y against the Owner for driving r of her to the Market,

9. If he to whom the Cow is letten, sell the Cow, and

and render the money to the Owner, what danger to him that sold her ?

The Cow is to be returned, and not her price, and if the Lord refuse the price, he may bring his Action, but shall recover but her worth.

10. If the Lord promise to put in repair any houses, &c. and do not, if any of them fall down for want of mending, what remedy hath the Landlord against his Tenant for not repairing the same ?

If any of these things that the Lord was first to put in repair, and did not, decay, the Tenant is not bound to repair them ; and if by permission

mission they come to ruine it is the Landlords fault, and the Tenant is free.

11. If the Landlord promise to fence in a piece of ground where the Tenant is to sowe Hemp and Corn, and do not, but so as the Tenants Goods cannot be kept.

An action upon the Case lieth against the Lord upon the promise.

12. Cutting up Timber-trees, Fruit trees, Hedgerow-trees, that shelter the houses is waste; the Tenant hath interest in the rest, if not excepted.

13. A. B. hath his Horse stayed from him, and findes him

him in the custody of C. D. and demands him of him, finding him in his draught, C. D. will not deliver him without 8d. a week allowance, and by delays detains the Horse till the year be expired.

A. B. May recover his Horse by Action of Detinue or upon action of Trover & by Conversion, wherein he must prove the property of the Horse to be his, and the other will be allowed fitting recompence for his food but no longer than until he was owned, and amends tendered.

14. If a Tenant upon an Arbitrement give a release to the Landlord, whether will that release free any other that the Landlord hath caused to wrong the Tenant?

To that for any thing that any other hath done joyntly with the Lord wherein the Tenant was indamaged, this Release may be pleaded in Law, but not in Actions done by any other without the Lords Joyning.

Name in a Coyveyance of
